ICDCN, International Conference on Distributed Computing and Networking, is a premier international conference dedicated to addressing advances in Distributed Computing and Communication Networks. Over the years, it has become a leading forum for disseminating the latest research results in these fields. The previous editions of this conference has been organized in Delhi (Virtual, 2022), Nara, Japan (Virtual, 2021), Kolkata (2020), Bangalore (2019), Varanasi (2018), Hyderabad (2017), Singapore (2016), Goa (2015), Coimbatore (2014), and so on.

The 24th edition of this conference will be held in Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Kharagpur, India from 4th to 7th January, 2023. At present, we are planning for an in-person conference at IIT Kharagpur. ICDCN 2023 will comprise a highly selective technical program consisting of referred regular papers, short papers, posters and demos, panel discussions, industry forum, and focused workshops on emerging topics about distributed computing and networking. The conference proceedings of the past editions have been published in ACM Digital Library. Extended versions of selected high-quality papers from ICDCN 2023 will be invited for fast track publication in the Elsevier's Pervasive and Mobile Computing (PMC) Journal. The conference will consider awarding a Best Paper Award.

International Conference on Distributed Computing and Networks (ICDCN)

4th -7th January

IIT KHARAGPUR

We are on course to establishing ICDCN as the premier international conference on all things related to distributed computing and networking. ICDCN is seeing a steady rise in the number of participants in the conference. Last year the number of participants crossed 150 and we are expecting a similar number of participants this year too. You will surely appreciate that success of such activities depends heavily on valuable contributions by patrons like you. This will be a fantastic opportunity for sponsors to network with the best experts and prospective hires in this area in India & globally and also bring greater visibility. The support from all sponsors will be duly acknowledged on the website and at the conference event.
